~ A Message from the Episcopal Overseer ~

I wonder what Christmas means for you? For me there are powerful memories of Christmas being a time of wonderful meals, present giving, and worship that is different to any other time of the year. I remember Christmas when I was a child and there was Midnight Mass, visits to neighbours, and Mum's extraordinary cooking! As a young adult I remember Midnight Mass, visits to friends, wonderful food, and log fires burning late into the night.

As a young man I remember my first Christmas in Papua New Guinea with Midnight Mass, moonlight on coconut leaves, and the smell of food being cooked in clay pots. And in Australia I remember Midnight Mass, watching my children over the years grow from being gift recipients to gift givers, and the extraordinary cooking of Kate!

The common thread in those memories is the opportunity to worship at night as Christmas Eve becomes Christmas Day. Somehow amidst the busyness that seems to be so much a part of 21st century living, that night gives an opportunity to pause and wonder.

Wonder at the audacious belief that forms a kernel for Christian faith – God becoming uniquely present in human form because of love. God becoming present in the baby Jesus, and in the man he became, because of love. This year I have placed a small Salvadoran cross behind our Christmas tree because we know well how that story of love goes!

Birth, living as a refugee, growing up in a little place, learning a trade, being baptised, teaching, healing, challenging, praying, being misunderstood, being betrayed, being killed... and then, in God's grace, resurrection life. Wonder, amidst the busyness; wonder about that.

God's blessing to you in the renewed friendship offered by shared cards, presents, and food. God's blessing to you in the hurly burly of juggling work, family and life. And God's blessing to you in the quiet spaces of this Season as you remember the birth of Emmanuel – God with us.

Blessings

~ A Message from the Diocesan Lay Director ~

Welcome to my first Report.

Before I start, you may not be aware that our former Diocesan Lay Director, Margaret Siebenhausen Jnr, has had to resign from this role a year early, due to ill health.

Margaret, rightly so, has to concentrate on her recovery above all else.
Please include Margaret in your prayers for a successful recovery.

Around a year ago, Margaret asked that I take over the DLD role at the end of her time. That time has come earlier than expected.

Cursillo Future Direction

When someone new takes over an important role in Cursillo, there are always changes that reflect the new person's ideas and personality. For those who know me, you will know that in the year 2001, in the Newcastle Diocese M27, our Lord and myself made that serious connection. Cursillo was the turning point for me and its success is my passion. Apart from a few medical hiccups over the last 18 years, my life has been full of joy ever since.

Cursillo in our Diocese?

I believe in traditional Cursillo methods, the value of the ACMA Manual, and the foundation that the Fourth Day brings. Nothing changes there.

I also believe, our Lord has given us brilliant new communication tools to enhance His work - smart phones, emails, websites, social media, event ticketing, videos and so much more.

For the many who are conversant with these tools, you will enjoy the changes ahead. For some, this sounds scary, but please don't be alarmed. If new technology is not your scene, don't worry, we will not leave you behind.

Cursillo is a wonderful method for connecting, reconnecting, and further enhancing faith. If you believe in the Cursillo method, like myself, we have a duty of care to pass a strong and vibrant Cursillo onto future generations.

How do we do it? “Communication is the Key”

Starting in 2020, you will be kept informed of everything that is happening in Brisbane SQ Cursillo. There is a leadership team working hard to help share the joy of Cursillo.

Most of all, as Cursillistas, you are the important people.

Our aim is to break down Cursillo barriers that have been slowing down Cursillo growth, by keeping all Cursillistas informed on events and happenings and interesting bits and pieces as well, in the hope Cursillo will be discussed more openly at a parish level.

As we come to this Christmas Season, we can all be grateful that Jesus was brought into the world for all of us. A safe, happy and blessed Christmas is my wish for you all.

~ A Message from the Diocesan Spiritual Adviser ~

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ

We are now in a new liturgical year. What does this mean to you? As human beings, I believe, we need new beginnings. Look at the events we celebrate. New Year's Day is all about cleaning the slate and starting again. Birthdays are about celebrating our beginning and specific birthdays, eg 13, 18, 21, are about entering a new stage of life. House warmings, weddings, baptisms, I could go on.

The interesting thing is that every new beginning means the end of something and as we celebrate new beginnings, most endings are a time of grieving. Again the grief is relative to our perspective.

I share this understanding of beginnings and endings because our faith is about a new beginning in God and seeing an end to the old life. Like all new beginnings and endings, they are only as important as we want them to be.

Cursillo is about giving understanding and rejoicing in the new beginning. Many do not see it because they are not ready to let go of the old life. We look for those who have forgotten the joy, or not experienced the true joy of life in faith.

Let us begin the year looking for those whom God is wanting to fill with the joy of new life.

2020 PILGRIMAGE WEEKEND

Date: 1st to 3rd May Venue: Kindilan Outdoor Education & Conference Centre
 Cnr Days & German Church Rd, Redland Bay

The venue this time for our pilgrimage is Kindilan at Redland Bay.

Kindilan is located in a peaceful natural setting and will lend itself to opportunities for hearing God's Word, for reflection, personal spiritual growth and encouragement of each other in this Christian Community, just as in our Cursillo weekends.

This quote from well-known and respected Jesuit Priest, Chris Gleeson, has been a guiding influence in the development of Pilgrimage weekends in the Brisbane diocese.

'All of us are on two journeys in life. There is the outer journey we make as citizens of the world, but it is the inner journey to the heart which is far more important, takes longer, and is more challenging. What better way to be transformed by the journey than to walk with Jesus Himself?'
Chris Gleeson SJ

There will be more information to hand in early 2020 in regard to the accommodation and cost of attendance. Whilst based on Cursillo principles, this Pilgrimage is open to non Cursillistas as well, so feel free to advertise it further afield.

We hope that many will join us on this weekend. There's plenty of room!

Report on 2019 National Secretariat

Held at Yarramundi, Richmond, NSW
20 - 22 September 2019

Delegates and Observers from eight Cursillo Dioceses met for the annual Secretariat, held at Richmond, NSW. The event coincided with the 25th Anniversary of Sydney Cursillo.

This is the second National Secretariat we have attended and both events were equally inspiring. What is evident among all Dioceses is, we must address declining numbers of Candidate participation in the Cursillo Movement.

Almost all Dioceses have experienced a decade-long decline for many reasons.

99% of people attending a Cursillo 3-Day Weekend, come away with a glowing "Experience".
But therein starts a reason for decline.

Because we do not want to spoil the Experience for a potential Candidate, we keep Cursillo to ourselves and don't share the joy with others.

This was taken by many to mean we are a secret society!

The unusual Spanish words, added to the secret society image.

The major (most important) part of the Cursillo Experience is the Fourth Day.

This is the part where we continue the Experience throughout our lives.

But in many cases this has been overlooked, with many Cursillistas not being part of Group Reunions or Ultreyas. We need to be encouraging Fourth Day activity.

Along the same lines, Cursillo has not done a good job in the past in helping our Parish Priests to understand the value to any Parish of having a strong Cursillo presence. There is a strong testimonial video from St Bart's, London, where Bishops, Priests and Lay people talk about what Cursillo means to them and their Church (about 7 minutes). Have a look: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3BVFe9VJgel&feature=youtu.be> Cursillo has endorsement by the Archbishop of Canterbury, The Most Rev'd Justin Welby.

Cursillo is a wonderful Lay Christian Movement that has changed many lives.
It is our responsibility to do our part in passing this legacy onto future generations.

Sydney 25th Ultreya and Celebration Dinner

What a brilliant event, apart from the joy of singing and comradeship, we had 3 Speakers.

Husband and wife doctors who attended Men's 1 and Women's 1.

After 25 years they are still as passionate about Cursillo.

A young physicist who attended the latest Cursillo, again speaking with passion for Cursillo.

Dates to be advised

All Cursillistas can attend a National Secretariat as Observers.

Vale – Margaret Siebenhausen

It is with great shock and sadness we say farewell to Margaret Siebenhausen who died at home in her sleep on 6 December. Margaret has been our Diocesan Lay Director for the past two years and only handed over the position to Alan Gray weeks before her death when she made the decision she needed to put her health first.

Those of you who were at the Men's Clausura in September will remember she became unwell then and had to leave early. Cursillo has been Margaret's passion since she attended W39 in 1995. Since then she has been on team 7 times - the last being Proctor on W78 in 2018. She will be greatly missed. Please keep Doug and the family in your prayers.

Almighty God,
give us grace to cast away the works of darkness and to put on the armour of light, now in the time of this mortal life, in which your Son Jesus Christ came to us in great humility; that on the last day, when He shall come again in His glorious majesty to judge the living and the dead, we may rise to the life immortal;
through Him who is alive and reigns with you,
in the unity of the Holy Spirit,
one God, now and for ever.
Amen.

Start by doing what is necessary, then what is possible, and suddenly you are doing the impossible.....St Francis of Assisi.

Santa's Symbols of Christmas

Just a week before Christmas I had a visitor. I had just finished the household chores late at night, and was getting ready to go to bed, when I heard a noise in the living room. Much to my surprise, Santa Claus himself stepped out from behind the Christmas tree and whispered, "Shh. Don't be scared. It's all right."

I started to ask him what he was doing, but stopped in mid-sentence when I saw that his usual jolly manner was gone and he had tears in his eyes. He told me he was sad because children all over the world were not being taught the real meaning of Christmas.

He reached into his sack pulling out a small green Christmas tree. He said, "Teach the children that the evergreen tree remains green all the year round. Green is the colour of abundant nature around us and indicates everlasting hope. God created trees to be of great service to people, providing wood to build homes, fires to keep us warm and to cook on, and paper to print books for us to learn from.

Santa reached into his sack again and pulled out a bright, shiny star, and said, "Teach the children the star was the heavenly sign of promise long years ago. God promised a Saviour for the world, and the star was a sign of the fulfilment of that promise. The countless shining stars in the night-sky still give us a reminder of that star so long ago telling of the birth of our Saviour."

Santa put the star on the top of the Christmas tree and took from his sack a glittering red ornament. He said, "Teach the children that red is the special colour of Christmas because it reminds us of the blood that was shed by our Saviour so that we could all gain Eternal Life, which is the greatest gift God can give us."

As Santa returned to his sack I heard a soft, tinkling sound and saw he had a bell in his hand. "Teach the children that in the old days animals were very valuable to people as they provided transport and food for them. They put a bell round the neck of each sheep or cow, so they could hear where they were if they got lost. In the same way God values all people, wherever they are, and they are never lost to Him. In some places church bells are rung on Christmas Day to proclaim the good news of this special day."

Once again Santa reached into his sack, and brought out a candle. "Teach the children that a candle was used in the old days to light the way so people could see where they were going. When it is dark we are afraid, but the light casts away our fears. Jesus came into the world and taught that He is the Light of the World. People used to put candles on Christmas trees, but nowadays we have coloured lights instead as they are safer."

Next Santa produced a candy cane. "Teach the children that the candy cane represents the shepherd's crook. This was a strong stick with a curved end that could be placed around the neck of a sheep that had slipped down the hillside, so the shepherd could pull it up to safety. The candy cane represents the helping hand we should show to others."

Reaching deep into his sack Santa pulled out a Christmas wreath and said, "Teach the children that the wreath symbolises the eternal nature of love. It never stops or comes to an end. It is one continuous round of affection. It is made up of many colours, and many different items, and shows how different we all are, but how important each one of us is to the whole creation."

Santa then took from his sack some tinsel and ribbon and said, "Teach the children that tinsel adds brightness to Christmas just as the many kindnesses we do for others brings brightness into their lives. The ribbon is ...tied into a bow to remind us that our lives are intertwined with each other, and the help we give others is constantly returned to us in different ways."

Finally, Santa patted his sack and said, "There will be many gifts in this sack each Christmas, but the greatest gift we can give, or be given, is love. Love takes time and effort from us to give to others in the way they need it, to bring their potential into being. Love is not an advertising gimmick, but something we learn to do, and we must teach this to our children."

With this, Santa waved goodbye and left the same way he had come in, saying as he went, "Don't forget to teach the children the real meaning of the symbols of Christmas." And as I watched him go, I was sure that this would be the best Christmas ever.

ADVENT:

Advent is a season observed as a time of expectant waiting and preparation for the celebration of the Nativity of Jesus at Christmas. The term is a version of the Latin word meaning "coming". The term "Advent" is also used in Eastern Orthodoxy for the 40-day Nativity Fast, which has practices different from those in the West.

Latin adventus is the translation of the Greek word parousia commonly used to refer to the Second Coming of Christ. For Christians, the season of Advent anticipates the coming of Christ from three different perspectives. Since the time of Bernard of Clairvaux (d.1153) Christians have spoken of the three comings of Christ: in the flesh in Bethlehem, in our hearts daily, and in glory at the end of time. The season offers the opportunity to share in the ancient longing for the coming of the Messiah, and to be alert for his Second Coming.

Advent is the beginning of the Western liturgical year and commences on the fourth Sunday before Christmas (sometimes known as Advent Sunday), the Sunday nearest to St Andrew's Day (30 November), in the Roman Rite of the Catholic Church, the Western Rite of the Orthodox Church, and in the Anglican, Lutheran, Moravian, Presbyterian and Methodist calendars. In the Ambrosian Rite and the Mozarabic Rite of the Catholic Church, Advent begins on the sixth Sunday before Christmas, the Sunday after St Martin's Day (11 November).

Practices associated with Advent include keeping an Advent Calendar, lighting an Advent Wreath, praying an Advent daily devotional, lighting a Christ Light, as well as other ways of preparing for Christmas, such as setting up Christmas Decorations, a custom that is sometimes done liturgically, through a hanging of the greens ceremony.

The equivalent of Advent in Eastern Christianity is called the Nativity Fast, but it differs in length and observances, and does not begin the liturgical church year as it does in the West. The Eastern Nativity Fast does not use the equivalent parousia in its preparatory services.

"Delight yourselves in the Lord and He will give you the desires of your heart"

- Psalm 37:4

Paddy was in New York.

He was patiently waiting and watching the traffic cop on a busy street crossing. The cop stopped the flow of traffic and shouted, 'Okay, pedestrians.' Then he'd allow the traffic to pass. He'd done this several times, and Paddy still stood on the sidewalk.

After the cop had shouted, 'Pedestrians!' for the tenth time, Paddy went over to him and said, 'Is it not about time ye let the Catholics cross?'

REFLECTIONA CHRISTIAN

Several years ago, a preacher from out-of-state accepted a call to a church in Houston, Texas.

Some weeks after he arrived, he had an occasion to ride the bus from his home to the downtown area. When he sat down, he discovered that the driver had accidentally given him a quarter too much change. As he considered what to do, he thought to himself, 'You'd better give the quarter back. It would be wrong to keep it.' Then he thought, 'Oh, forget it, it's only a quarter. Who would worry about this little amount? Anyway, the bus company gets too much fare; they will never miss it. Accept it as a 'gift from God' and keep quiet.'

When his stop came, he paused momentarily at the door, and then he handed the quarter to the driver and said, 'Here, you gave me too much change.'

The driver, with a smile, replied, 'Aren't you the new preacher in town?' 'Yes' he replied.

'Well, I have been thinking a lot lately about going somewhere to worship. I just wanted to see what you would do if I gave you too much change. I'll see you at church on Sunday.'

When the preacher stepped off of the bus, he literally grabbed the nearest light pole, held on, and said, 'Oh God, I almost sold your Son for a quarter.'

Our lives are the only Bible some people will ever read. This is a really scary example of how much people watch us as Christians, and will put us to the test! Always be on guard -- and remember -- You carry the name of Christ on your shoulders when you call yourself 'Christian.'

Watch your thoughts; they become words.
Watch your words; they become actions.
Watch your actions; they become habits.
Watch your habits; they become character.
Watch your character; it becomes your destiny.

Food for Thought:

I mourn the loss of thousands of precious lives, but I will not rejoice in the death of one, not even an enemy. Returning hate for hate multiplies hate, adding deeper darkness to a night already devoid of stars. Darkness cannot drive out darkness: only light can do that. Hate cannot drive out hate: only love can do that."

MEDITATION

When we think that our prayers have not been answered
we should not become depressed over it.

I am certain that God is telling us that we must wait for a better time,
more grace,
or that a better gift will be given us.

God is being and wants us to sit, dwell and ground ourselves in this knowledge while at the same time realising that we are noble, excellent, assessed as precious and valuable,
and have been given creation
for our enjoyment,
because we are loved.
